Do you use stretch film, cardboard boxes & other packaging aids?

- ▶ Transport and secondary packaging is subject to Article 15 Packaging Law: Packaging must be taken back and recycled
- ▶ With our efficient take-back systems and professional advice, you receive full support with regard to the legal obligation to take back your transport and secondary packaging.

Please note that you are responsible for the following obligations in addition to the statutory take-back obligation:

- ▶ Recovery obligation
- ▶ Information obligation
- ▶ Obligation to provide evidence and documentation
- ▶ Registration obligation
- ▶ Financing obligation

Due to the continuous tightening of laws, compliance with the Packaging Act is becoming increasingly challenging for industrial companies. Take advantage of our many years of experience in the environmental sector and work with us to obtain comprehensive support in implementing the complex legal requirements.

As your partner, we help you to comply with the legal requirements so that you can concentrate fully on your core business. Our aim is to relieve you of as much work as possible and to work together responsibly to promote the circular economy.

This information is a brief summary of the new obligations resulting from the amendment to the Packaging Act. It is not intended to be exhaustive and does not constitute legal advice.
